Ayush Gupta
Master of Supply
Chain Management

"AUT offers a world-class education with innovative teaching methods, a diverse and vibrant campus life, access to modern facilities and resources, opportunities for industry connections, applied and hands-on learning experiences, a supportive learning environment, research opportunities, a prime location in Auckland, comprehensive career development services, and personal growth and development opportunities. AUT provided opportunities for research projects with consulting companies across the globe, which added immense value to my learning experience.

While you are at AUT, connect with the support services for academic, personal and career development support. Engage in campus activities and clubs to become part of the university community. Embrace cultural exchange and build relationships with both domestic and international students as this can enrich your experience and broaden your horizons. I loved being the Ambassador of the AUT Worldwide Event and was the First Supply Chain Brand Ambassador for my programme."

"I always wanted to learn about plants and agriculture. So, I decided to combine my passion for studying plant science with hands-on experience in making wine from grapes. Now, I'm in New Zealand, cherishing every moment. I completed my degree at Lincoln University and now work at one of the country's most established wineries.

Lincoln University is the best for agriculture in New Zealand. They offer a variety of courses and even have their own farms and vineyards. I had the best lecturers who possess extensive experience in their fields. There's nothing I didn't enjoy. From lectures to labs, my favourite parts were the field trips and tours that connected students with the industry. The vintage semester, which included practical work, helped me understand how the industry operates and how to find a relevant job. This unique study structure allowed us to gain practical knowledge from commercial vineyards and apply it in practice."

Kajal Nair
Master of Management
(Journalism)

"I am currently pursuing my Master of Management with a specialization in Journalism at Massey University, Wellington. Having completed my first semester, I have two more to go. Balancing part-time work alongside my studies has been a rewarding experience, allowing me to apply what I learn in a real-world setting. The teaching style at Massey is vastly different from what I experienced in India—it's more hands-on, industry-focused, and directly applicable to the job market. In addition to providing a strong global perspective, the lecturers go the extra mile to ensure we are job-ready. The emphasis is not just on knowledge but on using it effectively in professional environments. One of the highlights of my experience has been engaging with industry professionals during my course. Many of our lecturers are accomplished names in the field, and the insights they share are practical, relevant, and invaluable for career preparation. This approach has given me confidence that I am gaining the skills needed to thrive in New Zealand's job market."

Michelle D'costa

Master of Arts (Creative Writing)

"I was overwhelmed with joy when I received the New Zealand Excellence Award for 2024—it was a heartwarming validation of my decade-long journey in the arts.

Being part of the MA programme has been incredible, surrounded by a talented cohort and inspiring alumni. Writing can be isolating, but the support from my professors and peers keeps me motivated.

*I love the university's vibrant environment, from study spaces to literary events. Spending hours in the library writing my novel has been a dream, and having my short story published in The Three Lamps made it even more special."*

Master of Professional Accounting Graduate

"I am from India and currently working as Fund Analyst at Roger Dickie NZ Ltd. I completed Masters of Professional Accounting at the University of Waikato. I chose this programme because I wanted a career in banking and asset management sector.

The entire programme is structured in a very thoughtful way, starting with the basics then moving from intermediate to advanced accounting topics. The course brought in elements of Information System and Law as well, so we learnt to be decision makers and not just bookkeepers.

The NZEA scholarship award helped me ease my cost with regards to moving from country to country with my family back in India."

"I'm so pleased that I chose to study my postgraduate programme at the University of Otago. Teaching at Otago is made up of classroom interactions, collaboration with colleagues and practical laboratories. The interactive teaching and learning style was very engaging, encouraging critical thinking and self-learning methodology. The work-based project provided me an opportunity to intern with a company and gain the practical skills and on- the-job experience required to be work ready. The skills I learnt at Otago have been invaluable now that I'm in a work environment.

New Zealand is a beautiful and peaceful country. There is so much to explore and so many life experiences to enjoy. The natural beauty and the good, friendly community has made my time here memorable."

VICTORIA UNIVERSITY OF WELLINGTON

Victoria University of Wellington is located in the vibrant capital of New Zealand — the geographic, political, and cultural heart of the country. The university comprises three central-city campuses and is a leader in sustainability, creativity, and government. The university is a global-civic university with its academic tradition which stretches back for more than 128 years, offering nearly 200 undergraduate, postgraduate, and PhD programmes in a variety of academic areas within eight teaching faculties - Architecture and Design, Business and Government, Education, Engineering, Health, Humanities and Social Sciences, Law and Science.

- Ranked 244 out of the world's 18,000 universities QS World Rankings 2025.
- 1st in New Zealand for Research Intensity (Latest Performance Based Research Based Fund Quality Evaluation).
- 1st in New Zealand for Linguistics, Library and Information Management, Politics and International Studies.
- Top 20 Safest Cities in the World (World Population Review 2024).

Anshul Sharma

Analysis

"Without a doubt, the best thing about living in Wellington is the city's size, which makes it easy to navigate, whether by foot, bike, or public transport. Equally, the city provides a safe and secure environment for the students.

The most interesting aspect of New Zealand that I've found is its strong emphasis on wellbeing. Coming from a culture where work often extends beyond the clock and where mental health may not always receive the attention it deserves, I am impressed by New Zealand's commitment to maintaining a healthy work-life balance and prioritising mental wellbeing.

Embrace the cultural diversity, opportunities for personal growth, and encouragement to pursue your passions. All this awaits you in the scenic beauties of New Zealand."

UNIVERSITY OF CANTERBURY

The University of Canterbury, located in Ōtautahi, Christchurch, is New Zealand's second-oldest university, renowned globally for its academic excellence in Teaching, Research, and Innovation. Founded in 1873 by scholars from Oxford and Cambridge, UC has been a leader in advancing knowledge for over 150 years, celebrating its sesquicentennial anniversary in 2023. UC is home to New Zealand's premier faculties and schools, including the Faculty of Engineering, Faculty of Science, Faculty of Arts, Faculty of Education, Faculty of Health, Faculty of Law, and the prestigious UC Business School, which holds triple-crown accreditations (AMBA, EQUIS, AACSB)—a distinction earned by only 1% of business schools worldwide.

Abhinav Sachdeva
Master of Business in Management

"I pursued a Master of Business Management at UC to gain holistic understanding of business operations. The hands-on approach—case studies, real-world scenarios, and industry networking was the most rewarding part of my experience.

During my internship with UC's HR department, I applied classroom concepts to real world challenges, and my employer branding report became part of their long-term recruitment strategy.

I chose Christchurch for its relaxed lifestyle, a contrasting change from Delhi. I love the outdoors—tramping, camping, and pushing my limits with adventure activities!"
